Fostering a dog requires a large commitment of time and energy. Often while fostering a bond will develop between you and the foster dog that may make it very difficult to give up the dog to its new 'forever home'. Have you considered this aspect of fostering and are you prepared for this type of commitment and for letting go of the foster dog?

RezQ Dogs Foster Home Contract

RezQ Dogs Commitment

RezQ Dogs is committed to re-homing the dogs in our care into the best possible permanent situation for the individual dog. Therefore we must take into consideration the temperament, energy level and health of the dog we are placing, along with the situation of the home into which we are placing the dog. Our foster system is the final step in the process of getting rescued dogs into their forever homes.

To that end RezQ Dogs will endeavor to match foster dogs with foster homes for the safety of all concerned. RezQ Dogs will provide for the needs of the foster dogs while in the care of the foster home. We provide food, veterinary care, training aids and advice, crates, toys, bedding, etc.

As a foster home for RezQ Dogs, it is recognized that you are in a unique position to assess the needs of a dog that has been in your care in as far as health, temperament and a future home are concerned. Your input is valued and will be taken into serious consideration.

However, all dogs in foster homes remain the property and responsibility of RezQ Dogs. This means that RezQ Dogs retains the final say in veterinary care and placement of the dog(s) into alternate foster homes or into their new adoptive home. All paperwork and payment pertaining to the dog is also considered to be the property of RezQ Dogs. As such, it must be returned to RezQ Dogs in a timely fashion when requested along with any equipment that has been loaned to the foster home for the health, welfare, safety, housing and training of the dog.

Foster Commitment

As a foster home I, _____ agree to:

1. provide for the welfare of the dog in my care including
 - a. a clean, temperature appropriate, safe environment
 - b. feed and water according to RezQ Dogs guidelines - picking up of dog food provided by RezQ Dogs unless otherwise arranged,
 - c. administer of medications as required and transportation of the dog to and from veterinary appointments unless otherwise arranged,
2. train the dog to the level of time and expertise that I have as agreed upon,
3. provide updated information on health, training, behavior, etc. and pictures to the RezQ Dogs representative,
4. make the dog available to potential adopters,
5. provide the adopter, on relinquishing, with all paperwork that comes with the dog,
6. communicate with the RezQ Dogs representatives on a regular basis with regard to the state of health and behavior of the dog.

In providing a foster home for a rescue dog, I understand and accept the inherent risks to myself, my family, my pets and my home and will not hold RezQ Dogs or its members responsible for any personal injury or damage to property caused by the foster dog.
